A human rights act, human rights discrimination act

The COVID-19 pandemic (COVID-19) has affected every aspect of our lives, including health and safety. Our rights as individuals and as members of our communities are affected by this pandemic. The Victorian Government has implemented various measures to control the spread of COVID-19,

These include: travel restrictions, social distancing, and health and safety measures. The Victorian Government has implemented various measures to control the spread of COVID-19, including travel restrictions, social distancing, and health and safety measures.

Please make sure to follow these measures to protect yourself and others. If you have any concerns or questions, please contact the Victorian Government or your local health authority.

Role of the Victorian Equal Opportunity & Human Rights Commission

The Victorian Equal Opportunity & Human Rights Commission (VEOHR) has the responsibility to uphold human rights and ensure equality for all individuals.

The Commission provides information and guidance on human rights issues, investigates complaints, and provides redress for human rights violations.

For more information, please visit the website www.humanrights.vic.gov.au or contact 1300 152 494.

The Commission is also available to provide advice on human rights issues. For more information, please visit the website www.humanrights.vic.gov.au or contact 1300 152 494.